LONDON'S NIGHT CLUBS.

LURE OF THE CLOSED DOOR.

Step to be Taken by Scotland Yard.

The advisability of closing down all London's night clubs is under the close consideration of Scotland Yard, says the "Daily Mail." The following is a description of the two types of club:—
BY A MEMBER.There is the right club proper and the night club improper.The former lives by selling a person a pennyworth of coffee at a price which would almost buy the bed he ought to be in;
the second by selling whisky "ginger ale" and then "charging for it at the price of champagne. At both kinds, for everything you put into your mouth you pay through the nose.In the first named, "if anyone could get in nobody would want to. It is the closed door that entices people in. If it were wide open everyone would walk straight by."When the Carlton closes the night club opens its doors. Then, to such a one as Murray's, or the Four Hundred, or Ciro's party people of all ages. Revue girls earning three pounds a week arrive in motor-cars; women of fashion drive up escorted by their husbands or their sons
—or somebody else's. Racing men, actresses, dancers, men about town—all the sort of people, in fact, whom you call by such names as "Baby" from the first time you see them—emerge from mysterious Nowheres and begin to dance.

THE DANCING.

A club like Murray's, which is near Regent-street, has a supper-room worthy of the Ritz and a dancing floor worthy of a palace. If you want to join, you pay three guineas as an entrance fee and five more every year. For every guest you take in you pay six each night. For kipper you pay Savoy prices and get Savoy food.Then you dance. Formerly dancing went on practically as long as people cared not to go to bed. Now, because of new ideas on the subject, it closes at two: next Monday, fearing, no doubt, that the authorities will close night clubs
altogether, it will shut at half-past twelve.The orchestras are usually in attendance—a string band and a sextet of niggers who play the eternal ragtime.
Modern dances are all the rage now—such insanities as the two-step and the fox-trot.Nearly all these things are true of Ciro's, which, named after the famous restaurant at Monte Carlo, celebrated some of the blackest days of the war by opening a new joy haunt in a narrow street just behind the National Gallery of the Four Hundred, in Bond-street, which is of earlier creation; and, to a lesser degree of Macfarlane's, in Oxford-street, which first saw the light of night just about the time when Europe was plunged into the dismal darkness of its present sorrow.At Macfarlane's coffee is a shilling and a lemon squash with a cherry eighteenpence. Probably the 1s. 2d., which the lemon squash ought not to cost is for the cherry.

THE LAW OBSERVED.

These clubs observe the law—such as it is. They do not sell intoxicants after ten o'clock, and, so far as such places are concerned, they are well conducted.
The objection to them is that they attract young officers who, home on leave for rest, ought to be asleep. The time of a nation's peril is not ragtime.

THE OTHER SIDE.

But of the other night clubs—! These use the law in order to break it.
Knowing of the difficulties of police inspection and prepared for it, they pay a registration fee of five shillings and then get it back by selling you three whiskies and sodas after hours.
Such is full of them. Men of all classes, and women of one, haunt them till daylight—drinking. Order "A light ginger ale" and you get whisky and soda; "mention to a waiter" "Dark,please," and it is brandy. But by your side they place an empty ginger ale bottle
as a blind.Harpies and kents of all kinds prey there. Thieves abound. In one such place recently a man entered with ten shillings on him; his friend had £200 in notes. Right up against the bar—and in the presence of the proprietor—pickpockets "held up" the hands of one of them, and "ran the rule" over him. They got the wrong man; the one with the £200 had just left the room."Have you got your £200, Jack?" said the man who had lost his half-sovereign
when his friend returned.

"Yes, old man," was the reply.

"Well, let's buy two more brandies with it. It's safer in the till."

FIRST AID.

FOR WEAK DIGESTIONS.

Almost everybody experiences times
when the organs of digestion show painful signs of weakness. Some slight disturbance of health starts the trouble, then the patient turns against food, and dull, heavy pains in the abdomen give warning that the stomach is unable to do its proper work. Sometimes a false craving for food arises; if satisfied, the result is additional torment. Flatulence, a groggy depression, sick headaches and nausea are other signs of indigestion.The foolish practice of flying to drastic remedies, purgatives at such times should be avoided. Indigestion arises from stomach weakness, and the only effective method of remedy for this debilitated state is to strengthen the feeble organs of digestion by supplying them with richer, better blood, so that they are made fit to perform their work. This is the true tonic treatment of indigestion, by which natural method Dr. Williams' Pink Pills achieve great results.These Pills make the rich, new blood on which the digestive system depends to carry on its work of assimilating food, and because of this special power, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills strengthen weak digestions, impart a healthy appetite and dispel all the painful disorders that arise from

EXTRA TO THE CHINA MAIL.

HONGKONG, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1915.

BY TELEGRAPH. THE WAR.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

BRITISH VESSELS STRIKE MINES.

LONDON, Nov. 17.

The War Office reports that the hospital ship Anglia struck a mine in the Channel to-day, and sank.
About 800 were saved out of the 385 on board, by a petrol vessel.
Another rescue ship was sunk by another mine.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE EASTERN FRONT.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 17, 11.30 p.m.

A communiqué states that below Dvinsk the enemy attempted to cross the Dvina at several points, but the boats were repulsed.

ENEMY ABANDON TRENCHES.

To the west of Dvinsk the Germans were compelled to abandon a portion of their trenches in the Lake Svintin district.

ENEMY FOMB GERMAN TRENCHES.

A Zeppelin flew over the Dvinsk district on Monday night and dropped bombs, several of which fell into German trenches, causing panic and heavy losses.

EFFECTIVE RUSSIAN ARTILLERY ACTION.

The enemy continues to make desperate attacks in the vicinity of Czartorysk. Our artillery again and again shattered him as he approached the River Sty.

THE ARMENIAN MASSACRES.

"NO MORE HORRIBLE CRIME IN THE HISTORY OF THE WORLD."

In the House of Commons, during the course of a discussion of the Armenian massacres, Lord Robert Cecil, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said that there had been no more horrible crime in the history of the world. The only mitigation was that it was nowise a religious movement. Pious Moslems everywhere reprobated the Armenian horrors as much as we did. The massacres were entirely unprovoked, and the suggestion that British agents had incited Armenians to rebellion was utterly false. The greatest protection of the Armenians was in our victory in this war; and all our resources must be devoted to forcing the enemy to accept the Allied terms of peace. We had telegraphed to General Nixon in Mesopotamia to try to induce Arab tribes to assist the Armenian refugees.

MALAY STATES GUIDES ON ACTIVE SERVICE.

LONDON, Nov. 17.

In the House of Commons at question time Mr. Bonar Law stated that the Malay States Guides are being employed on active service.
A very considerable number of troops from the Crown Colonies and Protectorates are serving, but it is undesirable to give the actual figures.

BRITISH WAR LOAN FIGURES.

LONDON, Nov. 17.

Mr. McKenna announced in the House of Commons at question time that the amount of stock converted into War Loan was 244½ millions, whereof 204 millions had been consols and 188 millions old war loan. The amount of war loan issued to meet conversion was 276½ millions.

SEQUEL TO EXTRADITION. PROCEEDINGS.

The Chief Justice remarked that the case "was" practically criminal and Mr. Potter was making an effort to get his client off. He (the Chief Justice) did not want to hear any more about the magistrate. The judgment was perfectly clear and he thought the Court had allowed Counsel more latitude than perhaps he ought to have had. Counsel would have the right to reply after the Crown.

Mr Potter said he was only telling the Court what had happened. The Puisne Judge was inclined to take a view which was contrary to what the Magistrate intended.

The hearing was again adjourned.

Sentence was deferred at the Magistrate's office this afternoon on a Chinese found guilty of the unlawful possession of $765 worth of material, namely, &c. He was found not guilty on the charge of larceny.

Four Wei-Hai-Wei policemen in the Colony to-day, clothed in khaki and wide-brimmed hats, attracted general attention by their physical appearance. They were taken to the goal three Wei-Hai-Wei Chinese sentenced to long terms of imprisonment.

IN THE DARDANELLES.LARGE CONCENTRATIONS OF TROOPS
BEHIND THE WESTERN FRONT.

TRADING WITH THE ENEMY IN CHINA.

GERMAN ACTIVITIES CURBED.

(Reuter's Service to the China Mail.)

GERMAN TROOPS MOVED IN FORCE FROM EASTERN TO WESTERN FRONT.

Zurich, Nov. 22.

New large concentrations of German troops are reported to be behind the Western Front. The majority are from the Russian front, where from it is believed one-third of the German army has been withdrawn, but further withdrawals are impossible, owing to the recent vigorous Russian offensive. These German concentrations are estimated at seven army corps.

WESTERN FRONT.

London, Nov. 22.

Minor operations have taken place at Arras and in Lorraine.

GERMAN ACTIVITIES BEING CURBED
IN CHINA.

In the House of Commons in reply to Sir Edwin Cornwall, Lord Robert Cecil said that no definite report had been received, but there was evidence that the Trading with the Enemy Regulations are already affecting the activity of German firms in China, and that the Regulations are being enforced to the fullest extent.

FOREIGN GOVERNMENTS AND CHINA'S MONARCHICAL MOVEMENT.

Lord Robert Cecil also said that the representations of the Entente Ministers in China regarding the monarchical movement had been received by China in the same spirit of friendliness with which they were offered; and it did not appear necessary at present to take further steps.

SITUATION IMPROVING IN SOUTH SERBIA.
BULGARIANS RETIRE FROM PRILEP.

Salonica, Nov. 22.

The situation in south Serbia is hourly improving. The Bulgarians have retired from Prilep leaving equipment by two Serbian divisions. Serbian cavalry advanced towards Babuna Pass and found no sign of the enemy, who it is believed, are withdrawing rapidly eastward.

MUNITIONS TRANSPORTING TO BULGARIAN PORTS.

Bucharest, Nov. 22.

The transport of munitions to Bulgarian ports on the Danube is still proceeding. The munitions are conveyed on large lighters containing usually fifty and sometimes a hundred wagon-loads in a single tug. Six or eight of the lighter flotilla are escorted by one of the six Austrian monitors stationed at this part of the river. Hitherto eighteen lighters of munitions have gone down the river and thus about one thousand wagon-loads have reached Bulgaria. Barbed wire, telegraph wire, mountain artillery and heavy guns, a small number of troops and horses, have also been shipped and the mines laid by the Russians in the river are being removed.

IMPORTANT SERBIAN VICTORY.

Bulgarians Lose Enormously.

Rome, Nov. 22.

The Serbian Legation has received a telegram from Athens, dated Nov. 21, reporting an important Serbian victory in the Leskovatz-Nish district after a battle lasting several days, in which the Bulgarian losses were enormous. The defeat caused such a rout that the enemy was obliged to abstain from operations in that district for some time.

ANOTHER REPORT.

Athens, Nov. 22.

The Serbians inflicted a serious defeat upon the Bulgarians on the Nish-Leskovatz line, after a three days' battle. The Bulgarians came near to disorderly retreat, and abandoned a large quantity of material.

ANGLO-FRENCH OFFICERS LAND AT SANTI-QUARANTA.

London, Nov. 22.

The "Lokalanzeiger" says that Anglo-French officers have landed at Santi Quaranta and are proceeding north to drive in automobiles in order to prepare for the retreat of the Serbians in the direction of Albania.

THE INDIAN LOAN.

A Satisfactory Result.

London, Nov. 22.

Commenting on the result of the Post Office subscriptions to the Indian Loan, the Times says the amount may be disappointing to English ears but it equals the expectation of those who are best acquainted with Indian conservatism. The small investor in India represents at least the beginning of the desirable process of popularising Government paper.

BY TELEGRAPH.

VIOLENT ENGAGEMENT IN THE DARDANELLES.

Amsterdam, Nov. 22.

A Constantinople communiqué speaks of a violent engagement in the Dardanelles, artillery activity and also fierce bomb-fighting at Seddul-Bahr.

CANADIAN WAR LOAN.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.

A prospectus has been issued for the First Dominion War Loan of 30 million dollars at 97½ interest at five per cent. Large financial institutions are subscribing and there are indications that the amount will be over-subscribed.

UNITED STATES ACTION AGAINST PERPETRATIONS OF OUTRAGES.

Washington, Nov. 22.

Mr. Gregory, the Attorney-General, appeals to the authorities of all the States for a close co-operation with the State Federal officers and labour leaders in tracking and punishing the perpetrators of outrages.

He says that in view of the limited scope of the federal criminal law, in cases of arson and malicious damage, the State authorities must prosecute and the agents of the department of justice be instructed to place their evidence at the disposal of State officials.

MUNITION WORK FIRES IN U.S.A.

"Carefully Planned Incendiarism."

London, Nov. 22.

It is reported from Philadelphia that official investigations into fires at three works, where munition making for the Allies was proceeding, the fires were due to carefully planned incendiarism.

MORE PLOTS DISCOVERED.

New York, Nov. 22.

Guards have been placed on the railroad and bridges of the Delaware River, along which munitions are transported, owing to the discovery of plots to blow up the line.

THE "GLOBE" RE-APPEARS AND APOLOGISES.

London, Nov. 22.

The Globe re-appeared to-day and published an apology for and a withdrawal of the statements regarding Lord Kitchener. [About a fortnight ago the Globe (London) was suppressed for publishing statements to the effect that Lord Kitchener had resigned.—Ed.]

IMPORTANT FINANCIAL MODIFICATION.

London, Nov. 22.

The Stock Exchange Committee has been urging the Treasury for a reduction in minimum prices by the amount of dividends paid since July 31, 1914. The Treasury has not assented to the scheme but has approved the removal of minimums on Consols, Annuities and Corporations, and on all Indians, Colonies and Foreigners. This is coming into operation to-morrow.

PERSIA ENTIRELY IN FAVOUR OF THE ENTENTE POWERS.

Petrograd, Nov. 22.

A semi-official message from Toleman says that Prince Fernandern, Minister for the Interior, has issued a series of Orders which go far to end the activities of the enemies of the Entente.

Toleman is resuming its usual aspect. The Persians who fled before the Shah intended to leave the Capital are returning. Our enemies are going southward. Prince Rouss, the German Minister, has gone to Ispahan, via Kium, where the German-Turkish Persians and the Democratic party have assembled.

Court and Government circles express a desire for a rapprochement with Great Britain and Russia, regarding which the National sentiment is favourable.

TSAR AND TSAREVITCH.

CALM ON THE FRENCH FRONT.

Paris, Nov. 22.

A communiqué says that since the repulse of the Bulgarian counter-attacks on the French positions in the direction of Kosturino, all involving considerable enemy losses, all has been calm on the French front in Macedonia.

The disembarkation of the French and British troops at Salonika continues without incident.

WESTERN FRONT.

FRENCH ARTILLERY'S EFFECTIVE
WORK.

Paris, Nov. 22.

The evening communiqué is confined to details of artillery and mining activity at many points, the enemy's works suffering severely from the French artillery.

KING EDWARD'S INSIGHT.

A True Forecast of the Present Situation.

In the forthcoming Memoires, by Lord Redcliffe, which will be published shortly by Messrs. Hutchinson and Co., the author, in writing of the late King Edward and his relations with foreign Powers, gives an instance of his penetrating insight. The King and the old Emperor of Austria were on very friendly terms.

"The betrayal of 1906," says Lord Redcliffe, "when Baron Aehrenthal annexed Bosnia and Herzegovina, making the Treaty of Berlin into a 'scrap of paper' was a violent shock to King Edward. It was on October 8 that the King received the news at Balmoral, and to one who was there can forget how terribly he was upset. Never did I see him so moved."

He had paid the Emperor of Austria a visit at Ischl less than two months before. The meeting had been friendly and affectionate, ending with a hearty "auf baldiges Wiedersehen." Baron Aehrenthal had been with the Emperor, Sir Charles Hardinge with King Edward. The two Sovereigns and the two statesmen had discussed the Eastern Question—especially the Balkan difficulties—with the utmost apparent intimacy, and the King left Ischl in the full assurance that there was no cloud on the horizon. Now, without a word of warning, all was changed.

"The King was indignant; for nobody knew better than he did the danger of tampering with the provisions of the Treaty of Berlin, and he saw that to make any change in the Turkish provinces was to light a fuse which, sooner or later, was bound to fire a powder magazine. Personally the King felt that he had been treacherously deceived. His forecast of the danger, which he communicated at the time to me, showed him to be possessed of the prevision which marks the statesman. Every word that he uttered that day has come true."
